

PRINCIPAL ENVIRONMENTAL/ECOLOGICAL CONSULTANT

CARLIN, a Belfast-based planning and environmental consultancy, are looking for a Principal Environmental / Ecological consultant to lead and grow our environmental team.

The CARLIN Ecology team has been a great asset that has contributed to the success and growth of the company over the last year. The multi-disciplinary approach has been greatly welcomed by our diverse range of public and private sector clients throughout NI and ROI. This has enabled us to deliver large complex projects, requiring Environmental Impact Assessment and Appropriate Assessment.

We now need an ambitious and motivated ecological lead to manage and grow the environmental team. This is an exciting role for someone wishing to take the next step in their career.

Essential Criteria:

- Have an ecological background
- Have experience in carrying out a range of ecological surveys/reports (including Appropriate Assessment)
- Have a CIEEM membership (or similar)
- Ability to motivate others and work in a team environment
- Experience in leading and developing a team

Desirable criteria:

- Experience coordinating Environmental Statements / Reports
- Project management of complex ecological projects
- 5+ years' experience in a similar role (min 3 years in a leadership role)

This role is flexible and we would welcome someone who has the ability to shape and lead the ecological team.

CARLIN are a fast growing planning consultancy and the ecological department which was set up in 2023 is integral service that the company offer. It is an essential part of the business and therefore has been invested in. There are a range of ongoing projects which require an ecological consultant so the position is available for an immediate start.

Salary: £35,000 - £60,000 (dependent on experience with performance based bonus)

Working hours: 37.5 hours (office and field based)

Contact us for more information and an informal chat.

Mobile +447469850063 or email info@carlinplanning.com